MEWSLETTER: VOLUME XXV, ISSUE 8

AUGUST 2015, ASL

August

This summer is full of SCA camping events. I have camped at a few of them, and some of you have camped at others. I have been working with my husband to construct a period pavilion as seen in woodcuts and paintings. This pavilion is twenty feet tall and twenty feet in diameter. The roof alone is large enough to sleep under without the walls. It proved to be a challenging venture, but well worth our efforts.

I'd say that we got the overall shape way we wanted it. But there will still be subtle changes made as we continue to refine the support system.

Gustav and Anna's Pavilion, first set-up

This design proved to be quite stable once up, but a bit of a challenge with only us on the set-up team. I am planning to work on a better system to erect the beast, as in the current incarnation, it is rather top heavy. I hope to modify the pavilion to allow the Pole to be erected first, and then the canvas might be hoisted into place. The use of pulleys goes back to ancient times, and lifting engines were getting quite advanced by the end of our period of study.

THE TIME OF OUR LIVES: (CONTINUED)

EVENTS:

Artisan's Circle:

Initial report indicates a loss of $64.00. Lost and found will be posted by Alex.

There was a discussion about it continuing as an established event. This topic will be revisited at a future moot.

Poorman's Pennsic:

Reviewed last year's comments suggestions. (See addendum)

A volunteer has been found for site tokens. A pet food drive will once again be going at Troll.

Youth Boffer will be going on Saturday afternoon from 4pm to 6pm.

There are 4 volunteers for the Chili Feed on Friday night.

There is a 99 percent chance no Royalty will be present at Poorman's.

Justinian will be conducting armor testing on Friday night. Contact him for more info.

A question was raised concerning whether or not Quiet Camping could be moved to keep it more quiet.

After some discussion and consultation, it was determined that this would not be possible.

Griffin Needle:

The original date has been reestablished. The new site will most likely be Zion United Methodist Church in Marshfield. At the present time, confirmation was unclear. (Update: There will be a tour of the site on June 29.) Justinian volunteered to contact St. Albans Church of Marshfield if other sites did not work out.

Haire Affaire:

February 6 will be the date for the event.

Upcoming Moot:

August 16 at Wildwood Park in Marshfield, if FAIR. Lord Pedro and Lady Emelye's house, if FOUL.
